

With strong family support, Susie believes positive minds produce positive lives. "It's very important to get the message out about early detection and treatment and the benefits of annual mammograms," she said. Having shared the information she acquired with family and friends, she soon accepted the support that was being offered. Today, she advises others to listen to all the options your treatment team has to offer and share the information with others.

*susie
o'hara*

S U R V I V O R S I N C E 2 0 0 7

Look no further.

