

Marlene Schroeder's advice for women diagnosed with breast cancer is: when you look fear in the face, you will gain the strength, the courage and the confidence by every experience you encounter on your life's journey. "My support and love from my husband Greg and three girls - Melissa, Jessica and Sarah helped me through the rough times. They were there for me each and every step."

marlene schroeder

SURVIVOR SINCE 1999

Look no further.

