

Judy Davis has championed the cause of cancer survivorship since her diagnosis of inflammatory breast cancer in 1986. "Even though I had a poor prognosis I never felt like a victim," said Judy. "From the day we are diagnosed, we are all cancer survivors." Due to expert medical care, her positive attitude and a fabulous support team of husband Phil, daughter Allison and countless other family and friends, Judy has overcome the odds. Her goal is to help others in their fight to do the same. She spreads her message of hope in her 7th grade classroom, as well as always encouraging others to live, laugh and love.
